Warning Children about Spychips with Dr. Katherine Albrecht - Feb 5

To

"To be given dominion over another is a hard thing; to wrest dominion over another is a wrong thing; to give dominion of yourself to another is a wicked thing." ~Toni Morrison

This week Dr. Katherine Albrecht returns to the Solari Report to update us on spychips and other forms of invasive technology and to discuss her new book I Won't Take the Mark, written to help protect our children.

One of the top twelve trends in our Annual Wrap Up this year was Transhumanism. The phenomenon of integrating machines into humans – including without consent – is real. Educating ourselves to the risks involved is important in the face of an outpouring of media trying to make wearable technology and digital currencies fashionable.

For our selection in Let's Go to the Movies, please make sure to watch the Infowars interview with brilliant and courageous Hollywood producer Aaron Russo. We live under a governance system populated by people who believe in mind control and slavery. It is hard for many Americans to fathom that this is so. Better to do that now, while there is still time to ensure that we as consumers do not embrace purchasing and wearing technology that others use to track and financially harvest us. Whatever we do, let's not make this fashionable.

Highlights from the 2014 Annual Wrap Up

On Thursday, January 8th, the Solari Report team published our Annual Wrap Up, complete with an online Web Presentation with graphs and charts to help you assess and digest the richness of our topic.

Here is what I will be covering:

- A Free and Inspired Life – our theme for 2015.
- Money Maps of the World – we have created a tool to review the “geo” of “geopolitics.”
- Planet Equity – our choice for the “big trend” to highlight this year.
- The Most Important Stories of 2014 and the Deeper Trends – I look at critical drivers in our culture and economy that define your opportunities and risks.
- 2014 Financial Market Round Up – a review of performance in the global financial markets.
- 2015: Get Ready, Get Ready, Get Ready – let’s talk about scenarios and strategies for this coming year.
- Vision 2020 – The Solari Report team wants to support your free and inspired life: here are our plans for 2015.
- Best Books for 2015 – Some of our favorite picks to keep you in the know this year.
- And the Winners are... – announcing the Solari Report hero, documentary and movie of the year.

- Credits and Closing – The Solari Report draws from the best and the brightest – we want to remind you of who they are and how you can enjoy their offerings.

This is a great way to start your year – with perspective!

Highlights from Our Last Report

John Laughland is Director of Studies at the Institut de la Démocratie et de la Coopération (The Institute of Democracy and Cooperation) in Paris. John is a British historian, author, philosopher, and journalist widely respected for his expertise in international law, his analysis of European and global politics and his efforts to promote the rule of law.

This week on The Solari Report, John joins me to discuss the state of Europe and the future of the US-European relationships. Given continued struggles to manage debt loads and popular backlash against austerity programs, tensions in NATO, fighting in Ukraine, sanctions against Russia and the ramifications for the European economy, an influx of immigration from the Muslim countries, triggered in no small part by US wars in the Middle East, continental Europe is managing challenging times.

I know of no one better to address these issues. I first heard John speak after the publication in 1997 of his book The Tainted Source: Undemocratic Origins of the European Idea. His brilliant insights regarding the flaws of the European Union have more than stood the test of time. For background, access our previous report with John here.

Special Solari Report: In-State Equity Crowdfunding Offerings as an Alternative to Federal Jobs Act - Now Available to All Solari Readers!

~The following article and accompanying table are intended for use as reference tools and as indications of the types of requirements and restrictions that may be found in various state statutes and regulations. They should not be relied upon, may not be current, accurate or complete and do not constitute legal advice for readers. Any small business interested in conducting a state crowdfunding offering should consult competent legal counsel in the applicable home state before taking any action.~

[CAF Note: Whenever I am interested in a highly complex legal and regulatory issue, I turn to our attorney Carolyn Betts to research and write something that distills the material down so that a serious entrepreneur can get the lay of the land before finding the right attorney. The goal is to take a very important issue and reduce the task of defining options to something a busy person can handle it. As the federal government has declined to create a regulatory pathway for crowdfunding to serve as a legitimate tool for entrepreneurs to raise equity capital, the states are proceeding to take action. If using crowdfunding to invest or raise capital with securities is of interest, do check out what is happening in your state. Here it is – another tour de force from Carolyn Betts.]
