"Not good."
~ Marcy Kaptur

Congresswoman Marcy Kaptur represents Ohio's Ninth Congressional District and is currently serving her sixteenth term in the U.S. House of Representatives. The Congresswoman ranks among the most senior Members of the 114th Congress and serves on the all-important House Appropriations committee. Her consistent efforts to defend the interests of her constituents and all Americans underscores a record of excellence in public service.

Our interview with Congresswoman Kaptur is being made available to the public due to the importance of this week's vote in the House on the Trans-Pacific Partnership. Also because of the timely nature in which we would like to release this, it is still the rough audio – we will update the recording when the final edits have come in.

During our discussion, a number of points came to light which you may find disturbing:

- The contents of the roughly 1000-page Trans-Pacific Partnership agreement are top-secret
- Members of Congress were not invited to draft this agreement – it was drafted by corporate interests
- Members of the House of Representatives are not allowed to discuss the TPP agreement with staff-members or constituents
- Members of the House are subject to criminal prosecution if they talk about what they have read in the agreement

My analysis of the ramifications of the TPP agreement is available for Solari Report subscribers in the June 11, 2015 Money & Markets segment here. It covers:

- Whether or not the TPP agreement represents a trade agreement or something much more far-reaching
- The timing of the bill – why now?
- How will international legal authority and the sovereignty of nations be affected by this agreement?

To gain a better understanding of what the TPP involves, I also recommend our Special Report on the Trans-Pacific Partnership Agreement.

Congresswoman Marcy Kaptur encourages all Americans who have concerns about this bill to call, write, or e-mail their representatives in the House and the Senate to OPPOSE:

1. Fast Track negotiating authority for trade agreements
2. The Trans-Pacific Partnership

Update: While the vote to fast track the TPP was defeated in the House last Friday, the House passed a revised version on Thursday. The bill now goes back to the Senate.

“Planet Debt” Full Color Book For Sale Now!

A note from Catherine Austin Fitts: As the Obama Administration moves forward aggressively with the TPP, I felt it was important for Solari Report subscribers to have an introduction and overview of the basic facts and issues involved. After much searching, I could not find such a presentation, so I asked attorney Carolyn Betts to prepare one for the Solari Report. As always, Carolyn has done an excellent job of giving us an overview of a highly complex legal agreement – one that could have a profound impact on our work and lives. The fundamental issue at hand is whether the nations involved in TTP are going to be sovereign nations or whether we are going to introduce global government by using trade agreements to override national, state and local laws – often without the involvement, agreement and concurrence of the authorizing legislators – and do so in a format that gives large corporations extraordinary rights, making them superior in legal powers to people and governments.

By Carolyn Betts, Esq.

What is the Trans Pacific Partnership Agreement?

The Trans Pacific Partnership Agreement is a proposed regional international trade agreement that has been under negotiation since 2005 among Pacific Rim nations, currently numbering the following twelve:

Australia, Brunei, Canada, Chile, Japan, Malaysia, Mexico, New Zealand, Peru, Singapore, United States, Vietnam.

Highlights from Our 1st Quarter Wrap Up: Planet Debt

The dominant theme in our Annual Wrap up in January was Planet Equity. In our 1st Quarter Wrap Up, we explore a related part of the global balance sheet: Planet Debt.

The systematic harvesting of countries around the globe has been ongoing since

... whether by encouraging countries to issue debt, particularly dollar-denominated debt, or to buy US debt. It is not surprising that some of the biggest buyers of US Treasury securities are nations that have had a US military presence since WWII. Nor is it surprising that there is a relationship between large military expenditures and high debt levels.

What has evolved on planet earth is the ultimate financial entrapment operation in which one set of players can:

- Create fiat money and lend at zero expense
- Maintain an information advantage that violates the laws related to material omissions in financial transactions, fraudulent inducement and predatory lending
- Engage in dirty tricks that impact the borrower's ability to pay
- Legislate laws and regulations that make it profitable to lend to people who fail and cannot pay back their debt principal

On Thursday, April 23, the Solari Report team will publish our First Quarter Wrap Up, complete with a web presentation including graphs and charts designed to “pull back the curtain” on this important subject.

I will be covering:

- How global debt is an essential part of the central banking-warfare model
- Debt and the “Databeast”
- Global and domestic blowback resulting from debt
- Mandating markets for monopolists
- Q1 News stories and trends
- Q1 Financial markets
- Where it's all going

Highlights from Our Last Report

This week on the Solar Report, I will be joined by long time collaborator Dr. Joseph Farrell to discuss this month's Bilderberg meeting in Austria and the Bilderberger's impact on policy development, consensus building and decision-making for transnational global finance and geopolitics.

Dr. Farrell will pick up where he left off on a previous Solari Report:

The first Bilderberg meetings were brokered on the Western side primarily by the Rothschilds and Lawrence Rockefeller with David in the background. On the European side, they were brokered by Prince Bernhard and a man who was a prominent member of the early Bilderberg meetings, Dr. Hermann Josef Abs. He was the CEO of Deutsche Bank.

Most people are unaware that Prince Bernhard was part of the management of IG Farben. In other words, he was plugged into the financial structure of the Third Reich in a major way.

With Herman Josef Abs, we have an individual who was also plugged into that structure. During and prior to WWII, Abs ran a handling bank in Berlin that handled all of the Reich government accounts. In other words, he was the guy signing Adolph Hitler's paycheck as chancellor.

So, we're dealing with people coming together to coordinate all of this vast Nazi loot that's been moved into Western banks. I suspect that it was kept off the books as a hidden reserve in order to expand post-war credit-making ability. I think the reason why this happened was so that all the plundered Axis loot could be cycled back into Europe with everybody getting their cut.

This is a story which is known by the Russians and it must be known by Mr. Putin, particularly as he came out of the KGB. It's interesting to note that Mr. Putin did his PhD thesis precisely in the areas of economies, markets, and finance. So he would be well aware of what the post-war financial gains had been.

Who is really running the show? As you know, I think it is essential to try to understand the real governance system – both who is in charge and how decision-making and resource allocations really work.
