Pretty Good Knowledge with Bill Binney and Kirk Wiebe - November 29th

“Talent wins games, but teamwork and intelligence wins championships” ~ Michael Jordan

By Catherine Austin Fitts

This week on the Solari Report I talk with Bill Binney and Kirk Wiebe about their new company Pretty Good Knowledge.

Bill and Kirk describe Pretty Good Knowledge as a young company with a long history. They and their team bring together decades of experience in discovering knowledge from data and combine this with the latest techniques and technologies in data science.

Every enterprise – big or small – is struggling to make sense of an overwhelming amount of data. We want our data to help us do a better job and we want our data to be secure. Bill and Kirk can help.

It's big news when one of the top teams in data science in the world becomes accessible to private organizations – consequently, this Solari Report will be open to the public. Please feel free to share widely.

In Let's Go to the Movies I recommend the documentary A Good American which tells the story of Bill and Kirk's accomplishments at the National Security Agency (NSA). Their small team created a highly efficient solution to achieve real-time processing of all global

Highlights from Last Week

Solari Food Series – Poultry with Bill Niman - November 22nd

This week on the Solari Report we publish our next episode of the Food Series, in which Harry Blazer interviews Bill Niman in the third part of a fascinating three-part series with two of the most knowledgeable leaders in fresh food markets in America today. The first two parts of this series were Hog Heaven and the Godfather of Grass-Fed. As millions of people in the United States and Canada this week sit down to enjoy Thanksgiving dinner, it is appropriate that this episode will cover poultry.

No one knows more about raising the finest livestock than Bill and his team. Bill's wife Nicolette is author of Righteous Porkchop: Finding a Life and Good Food Beyond Factory Farms and Defending Beef: the Case for Sustainable Beef Production. Together they own and operate Bill and Nicolette Niman's Farm in Bolinas, California, raising and producing the finest lamb, beef, and turkey.

Bill is our hero this week on the Solari Report. The courage and persistence he has shown in his commitment to protecting our food supply and providing the finest meat available has been extraordinary. While giving thanks during this season, please give thanks for Bill and Nicolette and the farmers and ranchers like them who provide us with healthy, nutritious food. Who's your farmer? Who's your rancher? If possible, source your food from people you know and trust and remember to tell them, THANKS!
